From: James-Training For Safety
To: lalvarez@bakersfieldpd.us
Subject: Training Bulletin-Jan 22, 2019, from Training For Safety
Date: Tuesday, January 22, 2019 10:32:04 AM

TrainingforSafety logo

Training Bulletin

Relevant, Up-To-Date, Discipline-Specific Information - Volume 7, Issue 3

In This Issue....

Los Angeles' Earthquake Early Warning System Could Save Lives, but What About the Rest of California?

They Roam Public Buildings, Making Videos. Terrorism Experts Say They May be Dangerous

Motorola Solutions Buys Major License-Plate-Reading Company

Three-Day Critical Incident Stress Management Course

Recommended Reading

Link of the Week: Help Wanted - Working Together to Harness the Power of Data for 9-1-1

Concept for Walking Car Explores Advanced Capabilities Possibly Useful for Emergency Responders

Free Bi-Weekly Email Newsletter on Social Media for Public Safety

FirstNet News

Want to Live Longer? Just Sit a Bit Less Each Day

Free Training Webinars and Web Events Calendar

Need a Break? Police Escort Fresh Doughnuts After Krispy Kreme Truck Fire

California POST SAFE Driving Campaign

Dear Leslie,

As a nonprofit, public-benefit corporation, we are dedicated to providing you the highest level of safety-related training and information. We hope you will find these news bulletins useful.

Los Angeles' Earthquake Early Warning System Could Save Lives, but What About the Rest of California?

"Despite its reputation for both earthquakes and high-tech innovation, the state plan has progressed sluggishly while a handful of other quake-prone countries - including Mexico - have launched successful early-warning programs."

Click here to read more from Emergency Management.

They Roam Public Buildings, Making Videos. Terrorism Experts Say They May be Dangerous

"Armed with cellphones, cameras and sometimes handguns, these self-described 'First Amendment auditors' traipse through government buildings, roam the halls of police departments and wander around airports and natural gas plants across the country."

Click here to read more from Emergency Management.

Motorola Solutions Buys Major License-Plate-Reading Company

"The company, Vigilant Solutions, has attracted some controversy for the way customers use its product. It has also pursued facial recognition technology, a concern for civil rights groups."

Click here to read more from Government Technology.

Three-Day Critical Incident Stress Management Course

For All First Responders (Police, Fire, and EMS), 9-1-1 Dispatchers, Emergency Management, Probation, Parole, and Corrections

- Survival Strategies for Reducing, Preventing and Coping with Stress

- Techniques for Dealing with Both Cumulative and Critical Incident Stress
- How to Defuse
- The Advantages of a Peer Support Program
- How to Develop and Manage a Critical Incident Stress Management Program

November 5, 6, and 7, 2019 in Modesto (Stanislaus County)

Click here to see our complete training schedule.

Recommended Reading

Burnout, Compassion Fatigue, and Vicarious Trauma: A Brief for Administrators, Physicians, and Human Service Workers by Daniel L. Lancaster.

Click here to see the Amazon listing.

Link of the Week: Help Wanted - Working Together to Harness the Power of Data for 9-1-1

"Your input is requested on all aspects of the draft 911 Data & Information Sharing: A Strategic Plan."

Click here to learn more from Urgent Communications.

Have a useful link to share with Public Safety?
Email me: James.Oneil@TrainingForSafety.com
Please include "Link of the Week" in the subject line. Thanks for your help.

Concept for Walking Car Explores Advanced Capabilities Possibly Useful for Emergency Responders

"Last week at the Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas Hyundai displayed a scale model of a concept for an outlandish vehicle that they think could be useful for emergency responders and search and rescue organizations."

Click here to read more from Wildfire Today.

Free Bi-Weekly Email Newsletter on Social Media for Public Safety

Every other Thursday morning, we publish a free newsletter on Social Media for Public Safety. Whether you are just starting Social Media at your Department, rejuvenating old accounts, or keeping current, we are here to help.

Click here to sign up.

FirstNet News

FirstNet Authority Seeking Additional Industry Partners

"While the FirstNet partnership with AT&T has yielded good progress to date, the FirstNet Authority does not want 'to put all of our eggs in one basket' and is seeking other industry partners, particularly those interested in developing technologies that can be leveraged for both public-safety and smart-cities initiatives, according to FirstNet Authority Acting CEO Ed Parkinson." (Urgent Communications)

Want to Live Longer? Just Sit a Bit Less Each Day

"If you have a job or lifestyle that involves a lot of sitting, you can lower your risk of early death by moving more often, for as long as you want and as your ability allows -- whether that means taking an hour-long high-intensity spin class or choosing lower-intensity activities, like walking."

Click here to read more from Health Day.

Free Training Webinars and Web Events Calendar

Many of you have asked for an easier-to-read format for all of the free training webinars and web events that we find. So, we have created a Google public calendar with all of the information. Please let me know what you think of it.

Click here to access the Google public calendar.

Need a Break? Police Escort Fresh Doughnuts After Krispy Kreme Truck Fire

"Although the driver of the van was uninjured, some innocent pastries were indeed incinerated."

Click here to read more (and watch the video) from NPR.

We are here to deliver the best training experience available. I always appreciate any feedback or suggestions that you have.

Sincerely,

James O'Neil

James O'Neil, BA ENP
Training For Safety, Inc.
James.Oneil@TrainingForSafety.com
(650) 692-0437 Extension 104

Advertise With Us Host a Course Support Us on Amazon

Training For Safety, Incorporated is a California nonprofit, public-benefit, 501 (c)(3) corporation. We are dedicated to providing the highest level of safety-related training for government employees, security professionals, and the general public. We accomplish this goal by combining exceptionally qualified staff with motivated and experienced instructors, using the latest adult-based learning techniques, to produce an educational product which is always accurate, up-to-date, and informative. In addition, we offer select consulting services and products which complement our training and add to the overall safety of our clientele.

TRAINING FOR SAFETY, INC., 11040 BOLLINGER CANYON RD STE E-930, SAN RAMON, CA 94582-5056

SafeUnsubscribe™ lalvarez@bakersfieldpd.us

james.oneil@trainingforsafety.com | Update Profile | About our service provider

Sent by james.oneil@trainingforsafety.com in collaboration with

Constant Contact

Try it free today